Workplace Architecture + Design, as Lead Design Consultant, spearheaded the planning for Qorvo's three-story Mobile headquarters at their Greensboro, NC campus. Our firm meticulously detailed project requirements in a 258-page programming book, crucial in securing a development team for construction. Acting as interior design lead, we integrated best workplace practices to achieve Qorvo's goals. The facility seamlessly blends 115,000 sq. ft. of flexible offices with 35,000 sq. ft. of cutting-edge microelectronics labs, fostering innovation, collaboration, and employee well-being. Our team also designed and bid an extensive furniture package, aligning it with project goals and translating it into a nationwide standard for Qorvo's US-based workplaces. Serving as a national design manager, our team extended its innovative approach to other Qorvo projects, including the IDP Headquarters in Texas and a new Mobile addition in Florida.
