In the extensive renovation of VF Corporation's 179,000 sq. ft. Greensboro facility, a primary objective was to reorganize the space, fostering collaboration and cohesion among teams. Collaborating with Rapt Studio from San Francisco, the project involved infrastructure upgrades and the creation of flexible workspaces to boost employee well-being and productivity. Sustainable principles were incorporated to align with VF Corporation's brand identity. The result is a comprehensive transformation, turning the existing space into a modern, efficient, and collaborative work environment that aligns with VF Corporation's business goals. The redesigned space not only provides comfort and productivity but also reinforces the company's culture and brand identity.
