Following a fruitful programming phase, Workplace Architecture + Design (Workplace A+D) assumed the mantle of lead architect and primary point of contact, spearheading comprehensive Design Services from project initiation onward. In this pivotal role, Workplace A+D curated the project design team, ensuring seamless collaboration and cohesion throughout. Meticulous oversight of the schedule, coupled with regular reporting to the Core Team, ensured transparent communication and adherence to project milestones. This holistic approach fostered flawless coordination during the critical planning stages of the project's cycle, laying a robust foundation for subsequent phases. Workplace A+D's commitment to excellence and attention to detail underscored their dedication to delivering an exceptional product.
