In response to the expansion of Synergy Labs' Hildebran, NC campus, Workplace Architecture + Design was enlisted to revitalize a two-story, 12,000 sq. ft. section for a new campus-wide breakroom, additional offices, and collaboration spaces. Transformative measures included installing a new exterior facade, roof, and modern building systems to infuse the area with natural light, create an inviting entrance, and establish a collaboration hub. The project also introduced a new 3,000 sq. ft. outdoor deck, incorporating plantings and seating areas. The overall renovation aimed to enhance the work environment, fostering connectivity and providing an appealing space for Synergy Labs' employees and visitors
